Situational Leadership for Safety Leaders

To produce outstanding safety results with fewer resources, organizations need to develop strong yet flexible leaders throughout the organization. They need to offer safety leadership principles that are understood and practiced by everyone. An Introduction to Situational Leadership for Safety Leaders is based on Situational Leadership II®, the most comprehensive, up-to-date, and practical method of effectively leading and developing people, time, and resources in the world. This program is designed to build awareness around the need to increase the frequency and quality of conversations about safety performance between managers and the people they work with so that competence is developed, and commitment is gained.

Rodney Grieve: Rodney is the founder of BRANTA Worldwide, co-author of SOAR: A Gate-to-Gate Journey of Leadership Essentials, and author of the best-selling Defend Your Profits: Safety Tools for Bottom Line Improvement.

He has over 20 years of industry and consulting experience helping organizations, teams, and individuals create a culture of success.

Since 2000, Rodney has facilitated safety leadership development sessions with clients ranging from high tech to waste management, construction to food packaging, heavy equipment manufacturing to industrial services. As a result, he has developed the delivery style and content to be effective anywhere in the organizational structure. Rodney has worked with thousands of leaders, from front-line supervisors to senior executive, throughout North America as well as with groups in Japan, Taiwan, and Korea.

Over the past decade, Rodney has helped leaders realize that by creating a common definition of success and developing a shared leadership language and skill set we can increase the amount of and effectiveness of the feedback we give each other. And feedback is the only way we know if our impact is matching our intent. It is the only way we know if we are delivering results.

Rodney possesses a Master Degree in Environmental Policy and Management from the University of Denver and a Bachelor of Sciences Degree from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo. He is a certified facilitator with The Ken Blanchard Companies for Situational Leadership.
