Months in the works, the Bay Area Builders Exchange is preparing to transition to our new online plan room – CALBX.COM – on February 1, 2016!

To bring you this new plan room, the Bay Area Builders Exchange partnered with California's leading builders exchanges to form the Federation of California Builders Exchanges (CalBX). Our new plan room was designed BY construction professionals FOR construction professionals. CalBX's new proprietary software is user-friendly and intuitive to use, and is designed to meet the needs of every type and size of construction business.

CalBX.com utilizes sophisticated filtering and tracking tools that identify the bidding opportunities that meet your individual requirements. And our crack team of local plan room professionals will provide you with the most accurate and detailed information about construction opportunities throughout the entire state of California from bid advertisement through contract award, so you can spend your time building projects instead of chasing them.

In the coming days, we will provide Plan Room subscribers with the steps you need to take to ensure a smooth transition, including a schedule of training webinars, access to our library of informational training videos, backing up archived data and registering your company's users in the new system. Subscribers will also be able to check out the new plan room during the soft-launch period, starting the week of January 25, 2016. (We'd like to give a big shout out to our great team of Beta testers for putting the plan room through its pre-launch paces, helping to root out those final kinks so the plan room is tip-top come February 1st!)

Please share this message with your company's plan room users, and watch for our next email that will spell out the details to get you on line and bidding quickly!
